

by Aquajardin

A burst of lush green spreads out from the left corner of this aquarium. Vallisneria 'Tiger' and Spiky-moss on wood creates an upright movement, caught by Microsorium 'Narrow' and 'Windeløv', passing it on to Staurogyne repens amongst the horizontal rocks and wood. Cryptocoryne 'Brown' and 'Petchii' add a little difference in color to the green shades.

Tip! The very bright substrate gives a "sunny feeling" to the whole scenery.
